A Team Approach to Boardroom Excellence

Good “corporate governance” for any organization is a team affair. It includes more than just members of your Board of Directors. Strong support from company managers, secretaries, company counsels and auditors are also crucial for effective governance. How can all these players best work together in assuring good Board functions and governance oversight? What tools, practices and structures can they use to boost Board processes, oversee operations, educate Directors, and keep the company (and its Officers) out of danger? What “inside the boardroom” tools and tricks have proven themselves for achieving better Board governance, with less time and effort? All this plus much more will be covered at this year’s exciting Post Conference Workshop. Attendees will also have an opportunity to get a free copy of the presenter’s latest e-book, “Boardroom Q&A”.
